Neighborhood Safety

In an effort to help facilitate a virtual neighborhood watch program and foster neighbor-to-neighbor communications, the Denver Police Department has partnered with Nextdoor, a private social network for neighborhoods.

Each Denver neighborhood establishes and self-manages its own private Nextdoor website, free of charge. Residents can use their website to share information about neighborhood watch and safety issues, local events, school activities, upcoming garage sales, lost pets and much more.

The Denver Police Department is partnering with Nextdoor to support crime prevention and increase public safety through increased communication. DPD will post important information, such as crime updates, to Nextdoor sites within the City. However, the Police Department will not be able to access the residents' websites, contact information or content.

Nextdoor does not share personal information with third parties and sites are password protected and cannot be accessed by those outside the neighborhood, or found on Google or other search engines.

The City of Denver has been mapped into 126 different neighborhoods. Those interested in joining their neighborhood's Nextdoor website can visit www.nextdoor.com and enter their address. If you have questions about your Nextdoor website you can contact DPDPublicAffairs@denvergov.org or help.nextdoor.com.
